NEWSLETTER 2021

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

January, 2021

Dear Friends,

A very happy New Year to all of you – and never has the greeting been more heartfelt!! As the world has been turned upside down – quite literally – we wait fearfully for the end of this tumultuous interlude. The environment of anxiety has us all in its thrall but our commitment to the children has defined our ability to face the crisis. My sincere gratitude to our National Office team for leading - and all the projects for implementing - some stringent SOPs. As a result we did not have a single case of Covid 19 in any of our projects. That was until the schools reopened and several teachers tested positive, in our Karachi school. The school was immediately closed and the health authorities very efficiently tested every student. They found that five SOS children, and one housemother, had contracted the disease. Fortunately, they were all asymptomatic and were quarantined as required. Conditions remain very uncertain but we will carry on with abundant caution until the threat subsides.

Despite the restrictions placed on everyone, everywhere, it was work as usual for us. Fortunately our projects are quite self-contained so no one is suffering from any feeling of isolation, but the coworkers are certainly hard pressed to coordinate the children's multifarious activities, especially the scholastic requirements. The children have been deprived of their regular outings, and the interaction with ever so many volunteers, who organize fun-filled activities with them. However, this is a small price to pay for their safety. We look forward to welcoming you all back soon. Your contribution to providing the children with a well-rounded life experience is invaluable. Work on expanding our outreach has, perforce, slowed down but, despite difficulties, we are gradually achieving our targets. Your concern for the welfare of the orphans enables us to carry on our work, secure in the knowledge that support will always be forthcoming. You will be pleased to learn that we now have 60 projects country wide, of which 32 are residential projects exclusively for orphans, and we continue to grow. Work on the SOS Children's Village Rawalakot, Primary and Girls High Schools in Muzaffarabad and an SOS Children's Home in Multan is on-going, despite many restrictions. The Primary School in Khairpur has been completed and is presently accommodating all the classes, until separate high schools can be added.

A highlight of the year was the visit of H.H. Sheikha Jawaher bint Mohammed Al Qasimi, wife of H.H. the Ruler of Sharjah, in February. She is an eminent advocate for children and Chairperson of the Big Heart Foundation. This is a remarkable global humanitarian charity dedicated to helping refugees and people in need worldwide. She was accompanied by a large delegation and they were impressed by our achievements and continuing efforts to reach out to more children. The Big Heart Foundation has very generously agreed to finance the construction of the SOS Girls and Boys High Schools in Rawalakot AJK and also donate computer laboratories in the Sargodha, Sialkot and Muzaffarabad projects. Planning is in hand and construction will commence next spring after the winter shutdown. The total outlay will amount to $ 660,584. Our sincere thanks to Her Highness and TBHF for this generous gesture.

Another exciting happening was a throwback to the visit, last year, of Prince William and Princess Kate Middleton to the SOS Children's Village Lahore. They had thoroughly enjoyed meeting the children - even coming back for an unscheduled second visit - and were keen to follow up on their interaction and enquire how Covid was affecting their lives. In October a Zoom call was arranged between Kensington Palace and the SOS Village. The royal couple chatted with the children and told them that they had not forgotten them. The children shared some pictures they had drawn, one of Prince William playing cricket with the boys, which he had done - but wearing a crown – causing much amusement. This was a truly gracious gesture and one can imagine the excitement it generated and the memories it will create!

We are all aware that the digitalization of education, along with many other fields, is the future. We are introducing this technology, wherever feasible, and find that the response of the children is amazing. They take to it so effortlessly! Edkasa is an innovative learning platform, offering E-learning tuition as well as counseling in key subjects. We have introduced their programmes for our youth, co-ordinated in all the projects, and they are receiving immense benefit from this initiative. Where the children have been steadily progressing towards a digital future, an older generation has been quite literally, catapulted into it. A regular feature on our calendar is training programmes for various categories of staff. None are more relevant and important than the training of mothers. It is problematic for the projects to send more than two at a time for these sessions, and they assemble at the National Training Centre in Lahore for an intensive programme covering all aspects of good motherhood. This year Covid put paid to any such plans and has forced us, along with the rest of the world, to turn to new technologies. Zoom enabled us to connect all the mothers, in all the projects, for lectures and discussions on various topics. This was scheduled daily for two weeks at appropriate times. Not only was this inclusive and extensive, the feeling of general awe at being part of such a programme was in itself an experience for the participants. Possibly the only good thing to come out of this terrible pandemic is the realization that there are alternate, perhaps better, approaches to our undertakings.

Before ending I must express my sincere thanks to all of you who contribute to making SOS a success story. Thank you, first and foremost, to our donors and sponsors, who make it all possible. Thank you to our fundraising groups in London, Toronto and Washington who work so hard to raise valuable support. And, perhaps, the biggest thank you to all the volunteers who serve on our Managing Committees and enable us to establish and maintain centres of excellence. The giving of one's self is surely the highest form of giving and your concern and your dedication are the key to our success. By working together we are changing the fate of countless vulnerable children and making it possible for them to realize their full potential. May all of you, who are making this possible, be blessed and rewarded for your concern. With my very best wishes for your health and happiness in the coming year.

Yours sincerely,

Souriya Anwar
